The Vicar writes....

The Archdeacon of Sherborne (Paul Taylor) retires this month. Archdeacons deal with, and are involved in, a great many aspects of church life including church buildings and appointing vicars (and sorting out any problems with either of those things!)

The title given to an Archdeacon is 'Venerable'. I remember a book from my childhood entitled 'The Venerable Bede' written about that august man. It wasn't a children's book and I don't remember reading it at all, I just remember it seemed very special because the some of pages were lined with ne tissue paper. Sadly, I don't know where that book is now but the retirement of our Archdeacon got me thinking about St Bede, whose feast day is on 27th May (he died on 27th May 735).

St Bede is apparently regarded as the greatest of all the Anglo-Saxon scholars and wrote some 40 books on practically every area of knowledge but mostly on theology and history. He was born in 672 and began his monastic training at the Benedictine monastery of St Peter in Wearmouth at the age of seven (!). He later moved to the monastery of St Paul in nearby Jarrow where he remained for the rest of his life.

His most famous work is the 'Ecclesiastical History of the English Nation', a chronicle of English history from the Roman occupation until the date of its completion in 731. He also wrote grammatical and chronological works, hymns, letters and homilies and compiled the rst martyrology. During his last illness in 735 Bede was working on a translation of St John's Gospel.

In about 1022 Bede's remains were taken from Jarrow to Durham and buried in the Choir of the Cathedral together with the remains of St Cuthbert. Then in 1370 Bede's bones were moved to a splendid shrine in the Galilee Chapel in Durham Cathedral, but the shrine was destroyed in the Reformation. His bones were then buried in a grave where the shrine had previously stood. When the grave was opened again, in 1831, some bones and a gilded iron nger ring were found. The bones were re-buried and a tomb erected above them. The ring is now in the Cathedral's Treasury Museum.

Bede was declared venerable by the church in 836 and was canonised in 1899.

Here's wishing our Venerable, Paul, a very happy and long retirement.

VALLEY CLUB NEWS

Thank you to everyone who turned out on a bitterly cold night to attend our AGM in March. This was followed by an interesting and informative talk by Steve Fry from The Gardens Group. Steve works mainly at Brimsmore Gardens, Yeovil, and he brought along a variety of plants to give seasonal colour and interest in the garden. He literally gave us a virtual tour through Brimsmore Garden Centre showing us various products, many of which were eco-friendly. His collection of shrubs and plants included some new varieties which, grouped together, presented a very colourful display.

There are only a few tickets left for our village outing on Thursday 17th May to Hinton Ampner and the Watercress Line. Please telephone Eileen on 889584 or Angela on 889628 if you would like to join us on this trip.

INSPIRING WOMEN

"Following on from the successful alpacas visit to Martinstown W.I, a visit to the "Alpaca Adventure" near Shaftesbury was on the cards. So, Thursday 12.04.18 ve W.I ladies (Lesley, Ann, Gill, Angela & Heather) set off early to go "Alpaca Walking".

The owner Wendy Williams introduced us to our individual boy alpaca, and gave us instruction on how to handle and walk them. We followed Wendy through the elds, guiding our individual alpaca on their walk. We would suddenly be stopped as the alpacas would come to a halt to scratch or eat grass.

At the end we were allowed to stroke and cuddle our alpaca. It was like stroking a thick woolly carpet. Then back to the yard, to have fun watching the young alpacas in their stable...one was so cute it looked like a panda, with it's black and white fur. After the walk we went off to the Half Moon pub for lunch, then the drive back to Martinstown. Aww...what a wonderful day with lots of cute moments to remember."

Heather Bonser (W.I Press Of cer).

At our AGM in April we were able to re ect on another successful year in Martinstown WI. We have enjoyed a varied programme of talks and activities and are continuing to grow, with 8 new members joining in the last 12 months. This year we will be celebrating our 70th Birthday. We are very grateful to Jan for continuing as President and to Lesley Pemberton for organising our Programme and all the fun and games.

Our next meeting is on Wednesday, 9 May when we will have a talk from the Dorchester Women's Refuge.

We are looking forward to the outing to Hinton Ampner and the Watercress Line on 17 May which is now fully booked.

Winterborne St Martin Parish Council

The Parish Council now meets monthly on the 4th Monday, unless this coincides with a bank holiday when the day changes to the following Wednesday. Meetings are held in the Reading Room/Parish Of ce starting at 7:30 and everyone is welcome to attend. Agendas are published in the preceding week for each meeting.

Dates for meetings are regularly published in the Parish Magazine and on the Village Website www.martinstown-news.co.uk/the-parish-council.

The Annual Meeting for the Parish will be held at 7pm on Thursday 17th May in the Martinstown Village Hall. This is not a Council meeting and, after a brief introduction is very much open to you to ask any questions you wish to. This helps the Parish Council to set its priorities for the coming year – and also helps to inform decisions about the budget for the following nancial year, which is set in November.

Planning applications are discussed at regular Parish Council meetings and any comments agreed by the Council for submission to West Dorset District Council, the Planning Authority.

The Speed Indicator Device (SID) purchased by the Parish Council earlier this year is now very visible in its location at Mallards Green, which was measured by the DCC Highways Team to be the location in the village with high enough vehicle speeds for them to support our use of the SID within the village. The SID records data as well as displaying to vehicle drivers. It continues to demonstrate that a large proportion of drivers still ignore the 30 mph speed limit in this residential area with no pedestrian footpaths.

The Real Jekyll and Hyde? by Terry Hearing

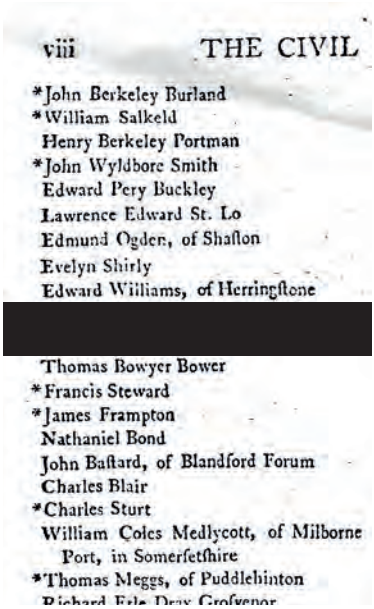
Browsing in the library of the Dorset County Museum, I found a book called 'The Civil Division of the County of Dorset', published in 1795. It is a directory of local government for the time, and includes lists of towns and villages, lists of bridges, and lists of magistrates. I am interested in the history of the magistracy, and I ran my eye down these latter columns. They began with royalty and nobility (listed on the Commission of the Peace by way of honour), but also tabled the names of the ordinary Justices of the Peace.

To my surprise, two names were entered next to each other: Thomas Hyde and Joseph Jekyll.

The association of the names 'Jekyll and Hyde' is rmly entered in English culture and general knowledge, and has been since Robert Louis Stevenson published his novel in 1886. This was a remarkable coincidence, that those two names should appear together in a list of magistrates published ninety years earlier.



viii THE CIVIL

*John Berkeley Burland
*William Salkeld
Henry Berkeley Portman
*John Wyldbore Smith
Edward Pery Buckley
Lawrence Edward St. Lo
Edmund Ogden, of Shaflon
Evelyn Shirly
Edward Williams, of Herringftone

Thomas Bowyer Bower
*Francis Steward
*James Frampton
Nathaniel Bond
John Baftard, of Blandford Forum
Charles Blair
*Charles Sturt
William Coles Medlycott, of Milborne Port, in Somerfetfhire
*Thomas Meggs, of Puddlehinton

On re ection, it seemed to me that this must be more than coincidence, and I made a few enquiries. There appeared to be no information available as to how RLS chose the names of his characters. So - who were this rst Jekyll and Hyde?

For a start, these two 18th century Dorset magistrates had different rst names - they were Joseph and Thomas, while Stevenson's characters were Henry and Edward.

Joseph Jekyll (1753-1837) was a barrister in London, who practised on the Western Circuit, was MP for Calne in Wiltshire, and as a friend of the Prince of Wales lived a fashionable life. He had some fame as a wit and diner-out, but his appearance on the Commission of the Peace for Dorset was simply honori c - in 1795 he had not taken up his ' Dedirnus' , the oath taken by active justices.

Thomas Hyde (1731 - 1795), on the other hand, was an active justice in the County. As a member of a long-established merchant family in Poole, he dominated Poole Corporation for twenty years. He was involved in a variety of trades, from Newfoundland sh to clay-mining in Purbeck. He built a big house at Arne, and went bankrupt in the 1790s.

Nothing in either of these two lives seemed to bear any relation to Stevenson's horror-story, so I tried another tack.

Could RLS have seen this particular list, and taken the names at random? He could.

His earlier life had been spent in Edinburgh, but in the 1880s he lived in Bournemouth. The novel was written in the last months of 1885. The book called 'The Civil Division' was given to the Dorset County Museum in March 1885. Stevenson visited Dorchester in August 1885, staying at the King's Arms and calling on his friend Thomas Hardy at Max Gate. Hardy was a Trustee of the Dorset Natural History and Archaeological Society, and had the right to use the library at the Museum. It seems possible that Hardy took RLS to visit the Museum, that 'The Civil Division' was on display among the recent acquisitions, and that Stevenson, glancing through the list as I did, picked up the two names Jekyll and Hyde for the story that was forming in his mind. Perhaps the famous nightmare that was said to have been his inspiration occurred while he slept at the King's Arms.

A group of 14 Mileaters and 4 dogs – Marley, Musto, Molly and Minnie – had a blowy but dry April day for their walk from Osmington.

The route followed the coastal path to Holworth passing the Victorian coastal fort at Upton, with a wreck in the sea below, a former cold war early warning radar site and the site of Ringstead medieval village to name a few of the points of interest along the way.

Once at Ringstead an anarchic group of members decided it was time for an unscheduled coffee stop despite the protestations of our leader who however soon backed down and had an icecream.

Mud was in evidence but bearable and we continued past the chapel at Holworth and on up to the top road where magni cent views were to be had of Weymouth Bay and Portland. The windswept group then headed downhill back to Osmington for lunch at The Smugglers Inn.

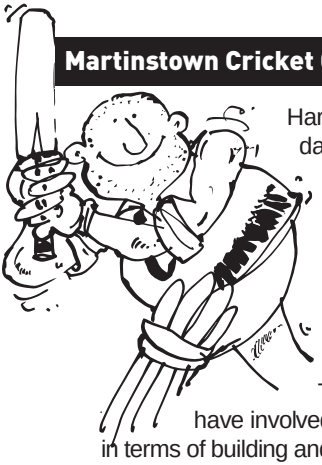
Martinstown Cricket Club NEWS

David Gargrave - Chairman



Hard to imagine balmy days of cricket as the current wet spell of weather continues. However hopefully we will have seen an improvement by the start of the new season.

The last few months have involved considerable activity in terms of building and planning activities.

The pavilion extension is now completed thanks entirely to the tremendous effort of John O'Brien and his team of dedicated members. This project has been delivered on time and within a remarkable budget. Equally we are indebted to all the individuals and organisations who have contributed nancially or in kind to make this happen. Without this level of support, we could never have embarked on such an ambitious programme.

In the meantime, a number of other initiatives are underway which we hope you will be able to support.

Our youth section is now further expanded with the addition of the national All Stars programme, aimed at younger children. Another exciting introduction is the formation of a dedicated Ladies and Girls section. It is of course early days but we view this as important step in the development of the club within the community.

The new Captain of the Ladies and Girls section is village resident Tanya Howlett, herself a sports teacher art Wey Valley. We are delighted to have Tanya taking on the role which is already attracting considerable interest within the village and surrounding area. Although by her own admission Tanya has never played cricket she brings with her considerable experience in the sporting environment. For anyone wishing to get some exercise with a small element of bat and ball this could be the perfect opportunity which can involve the whole family.

For more details please contact Tanya on 07825 415649 or go onto the Martinstown Cricket Club website for general information.

Finally, we look forward to another challenging season as once again we eld a full complement of teams across all age groups and leagues.

The club is always welcoming to new players, visitors, helpers and supporters.

Please feel free to join us at any time.

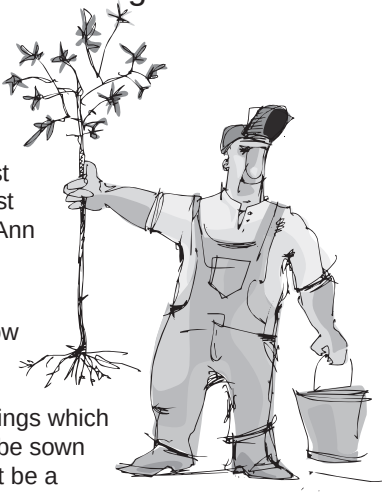
Garden and Craft Show

SUNDAY 19th August 2018 at Martinstown Village Hall.



As I write this, in the middle of April there is just a tiny bit of warmth in the air (but still a lot of water), which is nature's way of telling us that now is the time to get down to some serious gardening.

There are still some seed potatoes available for the Greatest Weight of Potatoes Class. You don't even need a garden just enough outside space to stand a large pot. Please contact Ann Priddle on 889189 or on annpriddle@btinternet.com, if you want to give it a go.

Tomato plants and many other vegetable/food plants are now available in the garden centres and the market, and as the soil warms up we can start sowing seeds of broad beans, peas and root crops such as carrots and beetroot. Those things which are not so hardy such as runner beans and courgettes can be sown under glass. However, if you don't have this option it will not be a problem to wait a while longer. The plants will soon catch up when the hours of daylight are longer.

The entry forms and schedules are now available either included in the Valley and Valence Magazine or from the village shop or the church. Please don't hesitate to contact Ann Priddle if you can't get your hands on one.

We have made some changes to the lay-out this year. The entry form is now a pull-out section in the middle and has 2 forms plus extension for those who enter lots of Classes.

Happy gardening.
